

Exploring Ethical Digital Care Without Losing the Human Touch

Jun 6, 2025

As technology continues to transform the social care landscape, we must ask the right questions. This thought-provoking piece from Care Talk explores how digital innovation, particularly AI, can be introduced ethically, without compromising the compassion and connection at the core of care. Patricia Wynn, Chief Health and Care Strategy Officer at Tunstall, contributed to the article, sharing insights on how a person-centred approach must remain central to digital transformation. At Tunstall, we're committed to ensuring every advancement we make keeps people, not just processes, at the heart of care.

<https://www.caretalk.co.uk/news/can-digital-care-be-ethical-without-losing-the-human-touch/>